Services We Offer

Green Spotlight Feature

Interview style article on GreenSuccessStories.com, shared across our LinkedIn sites, shareable by you as well.

[NEW!] Quick, Easy, Affordable LEADER PROFILES

Green Success Stories will produce a professional Green Leader Profile for you. This success story highlights green leaders, paints them as human and insightful, and showcases the efforts of the organization or department they are leading.

The process will require very little of your effort, time, or budget (interview-form based). When ready and approved, we will publish it on our website and across our green social media network. Then we will give you the link and invite you to do the same. And then we will give you the content and invite you to use it in your marketing, sales, or fundraising efforts.

[NEW!] Quick, Easy, Affordable CASE STUDIES

Green Success Stories will produce a professional Green Case Study for you. This success story tells the tale of how your product solved a featured customer's problem or challenge. It makes your organization and solution the hero. It is a very readable, user-friendly document that serves as the best kind of testimonial. People remember stories.

The process will require very little of your effort, time, or budget (interview-form based). When ready and approved, we will publish it on our website and across our green social media network. Then we will give you the link and invite you to do the same. And then we will give you the content and invite you to use it in your marketing, sales, or fundraising efforts.

Extended Profile Article

In-depth article in Green Success Stories profiling your CEO or major players in your organization. You provide raw material for the content (e.g., brief interview, raw text) and we write the content in an engaging and professional manner.

Extended Case Study

Case studies are marketing documents that read like magazine articles. They tell the story of how your company helped a client (or another company) overcome a problem they were facing by using your solution. They provide the best kind of testimonials, and are very easily adapted into other content - blog posts, marketing tear sheets, sales handouts, etc. You provide raw content and contact info for the interviewee. We interview and create the case study.

Case studies are provided in various levels of depth: 1 page (500-700 words), 2 pages (700-1000 words), 3 pages (1000-1500 words).

Introduce and Post Your Content

Green Success Stories will "host and post" your content. For example, we'll introduce you with a brief article and introduce and link to your latest press release, special report, case study, brochure, blog content, etc. We'll spread the word across our media channels, including SEO and backlinking.

Other Content

Green Success Stories offers additional forms of content. Pricing for those service offerings is determined based on the length and breadth of the project.

Typical forms of this content include blog posts, product descriptions, sales letters, email series, etc.

- Copywriting - We keep user interest going and growing. We get them excited about what you are doing and what you have to offer. Copywriting projects may include website copy, email series, sales letters, product descriptions, etc.
- Technical Writing - We make complicated material clear and easy to understand. Technical writing projects may include QuickStart Guides, User Guides, White Papers, Product Briefs, etc.

Media Channel Placement

Publication on our website and tagged links to content across our other media channels (LinkedIn, Instagram, Newsletter, Facebook), providing exponential media exposure, organic SEO, and third-party validation.

Content Handoff

Content that we produce is yours to use. Use it for your marketing, sales, fundraising or any other content marketing purposes.

Green Spotlight Feature

As indicated above, the mission of Green Success Stories is to highlight great folks doing great things in the field of sustainability, in all its manifestations. We provide “spotlight” articles that let folks describe their sustainability journey, the work they are doing, some of the successes they have had, and more.

Here are a few recent ones to take a look at:

Uniting Arizona's Climate Community Around Clean Technology

Green Success Stories sat down with Dr. Sotiria Anagnostou, Board Director of AZ CleanTech. We discussed her mission to make corporations more sustainable, her excitement at heading Arizona's first platform uniting the entire climate community, and her vision for a future surge in clean technology.

Articles and Profiles

Green Success Stories offers in-depth interview style (or third person reporting style) profiles of leaders in the field.

Here's an in-depth interview with Joel Rakower, head of GreenBiz Group.

Helping Companies Walk the Walk on Sustainability for 35+ Years: An Interview with Joel Makower of GreenBiz Group

Green Success Stories had an in-depth conversation with Joel Makower, chairman and co-founder of GreenBiz Group, a membership network and digital media event firm focused on corporate sustainability and innovation. We discussed the evolution of sustainability efforts over the years, the dynamic nature of the field, and the real good that companies and individuals do toward mitigating climate change.

We're equally adept at doing long and short blogpost content profiling news and events related to your firm, or to topics and events in the larger sustainability arena.

This Building Was Retrofit (For A King)

You've heard of this building. You've seen it in the movies. It's a favorite of tourists of the human and ape variety.

It was called the "World's Tallest Building," when it opened to great fanfare in 1931. Its exhilarating height, its gleam, its limestone, its granite, its art deco look – all impressed the world. Attracting cameras (and tragic monsters clutching damsels and crushing airplanes) everywhere, it became a star.

But that star, in its own way, was a monster. It was an energy beast.

Portrait of the Beast

Insights | Protecting Your Home's Smart Devices

Our homes are becoming increasingly connected to the outside world through "smart" devices, which work together over your Wi-Fi network to make your home more comfortable, safe, and convenient. Common smart devices include thermostats, televisions, light bulbs, and surveillance systems.

With all of this convenience comes a great deal of risk. Internet-connected smart devices can become a target for hackers, so it's important to configure them in a way that doesn't put your home — or your data — at risk.

Insights | Password Reset Best Practices

Your password is set to expire in 2 days. Please reset your password now.

Many react to this automated message with a grumble or groan. "Again?" "Already?"

From work-related accounts to online banking or shopping to gym memberships, passwords have long been our golden ticket to accessing the online world and keeping our accounts safe. With so many accounts and passwords, it is no surprise that account users often dread when their passwords expire, forcing them to add to their ever-expanding alphabet soup of passwords.

In recent years, industry authorities and experts have begun to call into question the effectiveness and utility of scheduled password expirations. Their research centers around individuals' poor password management practices and the burden password resets

Beware the mortgage loan in sheep's clothing

"Baaaaaa" went the sheep as he walked into the mortgage lending office. "Yum!" went the mortgage broker behind the desk...

"Have I got a loan for you!"

There are many times when investors need to take out mortgage loans as leverage to grow their private lending business. And the friendly mortgage broker strongly suggests a loan based on the best interest rate. But that rate is very often the best for him, which means you end up getting fleeced.

Unless you learn the right way to pick an investment loan.

Why interest rates are like sheepskin covering a hungry wolf

Mortgage lenders are businesspeople first and foremost. They may be your friends outside the context of work. But in the mortgage lending office, it's their primal instinct to protect their best interest, not yours.

INFLUENTIAL: ROBERT CIALDINI'S PRINCIPLES OF INFLUENCE AND HOW TO USE THEM IN DIRECT RESPONSE WRITING

ARTICLE 1:

THE INFLUENCE OF INFLUENCE

When it boils down to it, direct response writing has one basic goal. To influence readers to respond.

Buy this product! Sign up for this newsletter! You have nothing to lose... It's a risk free trial offer! Your credit card number, please...

It's a creative, exciting, often rewarding effort... and because it's direct response, you know when you succeed.

To be good at it, you need to learn how to influence others.

That's where Robert B. Cialdini comes in.

Who is Robert B. Cialdini?

Dr. Cialdini is the author of "Influence: Science and Practice", one of the most, well, influential business books of all time. The book has sold over 2 million copies in its various editions and incarnations, has

Note as well that Green Success Stories is happy to post and promote content that you provide (i.e., sponsored content such as press releases and the like), though we may consult with you on edits we feel would make the piece stronger.

Case Studies

Case studies are a great way to promote the solution your firm provides. They tell the tale of how your solution solves a client's problem and how everyone is happier as a result. They are also known as success stories and form a key element of what Green Success Stories provides. Note that they also are very reusable, as a recent article we wrote details:

Thinking about having Green Success Stories do a case study for your organization? Good idea! You'll get a very readable, engaging tale of how you helped solve a client's problem and everyone is happy. It's the best kind of third-party validation. It makes you look like the best solution out there, as attested to by your customers.

Plus it's extremely versatile. Here are

9 Additional Ways You Can Use A Case Study

1. Use it in a press release. A case study can quickly be abridged and reformatted into a press release. Be sure to note in the release that a more detailed, expanded case study version is available. Editors might pick it up.
2. Mail or email it to prospects and customers. This is a terrific way to keep in touch, raise awareness about a new product or service, and even convert prospects into customers.
3. Give it to sales. Salespeople love case studies. They use them in presentations, to illustrate key points and as testimonials. A case study is often more convincing than a brochure.
4. Post it on your website. Want to improve traffic to your site? Adding new, valuable content is a proven strategy. A case study certainly qualifies.
5. Use it as a story in your newsletter or email list. Success stories based on real-world applications get

TransLOCAL Translation Services case study

Getting the Words Right: TransLOCAL Enables Multinational Committee to Achieve Long Sought Success

CROATIAN RESTITUTION COMMITTEE

Problem:

Translations by non-native speakers were causing confusion, lags in processing of documentation and losses in crucial court cases.

Solution:

TransLOCAL Translation Services, providing translations into the local language exclusively by native speakers

Results:

- Dramatic reduction in requests for clarification

It was the 4th time in two months that a crucial deadline for court documents was missed because of translation problems. Anka Milac, documentation manager for the Croatian Restitution Committee, was at a loss for words.

"Getting the words right is essential in the work we are doing," says Ms. Milac. "In applying for government restitution for private property that was unfairly appropriated by former local governments, we need a lot of documentary evidence. This involves a wide range of translation into many different languages, for many different court bodies, many of them international."

The Courts Kept Sending Our Documents Back

"We have staff translators, who are by and large talented," Milac continues. "But the courts kept sending the documents back for clarification! They didn't 'get' what our translators were translating into

Case Study / Maple Estates

"The change was just amazing... Smart Moves took away our customers' hesitations about the process of moving. Because of them, our prospect conversion rate has skyrocketed."

George Persing
Sales Manager, Maple Estates Retirement Community

Moving Seniors by Removing Fears: Smart Moves Helps Seniors Overcome Obstacles to Joining Retirement Community

George Persing just couldn't figure it out. Why were retirees who seemed so interested in joining the retirement community he managed just not signing up for it?

As sales manager at Maple Estates Retirement community, Mr. Persing was seeing on average of 30 prospective new clients every month. He met with retired individuals and couples – warmly going through all the benefits of living in Maple Estates, giving them tours, introducing them to current residents, and more.

"The prospects seemed so interested, so excited! And yet; sales were extremely low," said Mr. Persing. I needed to figure out What was going on."

So he did. After meeting with prospective clients, he began asking them to fill out a simple form. The form had open ended questions – What do you see as the greatest challenge to moving in to Maple

Problem:

Retirees show interest in moving to retirement community but in the end they don't Why? The process of moving is too complicated and difficult.

Solution:

Smart Moves Senior Relocation Service

Results:

- Dramatic rise in prospect commitment (from 16% to 75%)
- Annual sales levels

A Few Words About Credentials

WWW.ANDERZTOONS.COM

"So, you used to be a caterpillar?"

In my² caterpillar days (there were a lot of those days³) I worked for many years as a professional writer (technical writer, copywriter, editor). I put out a whole range of articles, essays, case studies, sales letters, user guides, technical articles, that sort of thing, for hardware, software, finance, and everything in between. You'll see some of that content interspersed in these samples.

Though I've always been a believer in sustainability efforts, Green Success Stories is relatively new; my professional efforts in this regard have taken place over the past year. We are growing and applying our experience and talent toward helping those who are leading the fight against climate change.

Testimonials

"I have always been a firm believer in investing in marketing, PR, and online visibility, but lacked a direction and support. Green Success Stories not only helped us get more visibility online through article writing, SEO, and publicity, which directly led to us getting more clients, but was also very professional to work with and helped us refine our message and branding."

Dylan Welch - Founder of Green.org

"Sheldon is an excellent writer who communicates extremely well, with documentation, with marketing material and interpersonally. More than that, he's an excellent person to have on your team. He fits right in with different team members, who immediately feel comfortable working with him. He steps up to the plate, volunteering for new assignments and taking leadership roles. He designs creative solutions to long-standing problems, and finds ways to make them work. He is a passionate professional in all respects, who takes great pleasure in making his team and company better. It's my pleasure to recommend him."

Sam Adams – Managing Director, Carbon Capture and Commercialization

"Sheldon and I worked together at Qualcomm for over decade. He exhibited exceptional skill in converting highly-technical subject matter into clear and intelligible written form. As a technical writer with a broad skill set, we asked Sheldon to take on diverse projects for audiences ranging from engineers to non-technical personnel. Moreover, Sheldon was a true pleasure to work with. Always willing to help while maintaining both an outstanding attitude and a high level of professionalism. I would consider myself lucky if our paths cross again someday. Sheldon and I worked together at Qualcomm for over decade.
